1. Claim1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The terms x and y are undefined.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Zukawa et al. Zukawa et al. (paragraphs 30-33, 59-61, 70, 149-166) discloses BAM phosphors as set forth in the instant claims treated with reactive oxygen including ozone.

3. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a and e) as being anticipated by Sugimoto et al.'440. Sugimoto et al. (paragraphs 12-14, 32-35, 80-85) discloses phosphors of ozone treated BAM as set forth in the instant claims.

4. The requirement for restriction is repeated and made final. The election without traverse is noted.

5. Aoki et al. '706 is cited of interest as disclosing plasma display devices with BAM phosphors having Eu partially converted to trivalent Eu by ozone. The prior art cited by applicants has been considered.
